KRAZY KAT "FLYING YEAST"

Produced by Charles B. Mintz

Krazy Kat is forbidden by his wife to look into the stove in which she is baking a cake, but the temptation is too strong with the result that the cake is spoiled.

He decides to make a new one and puts in too much self-raising flour and yeast which causes the dough to rise throughout the house and through the chimney. The house rises and sails through the clouds during which time Krazy Kat is buffeted around by the clouds and wind until he falls. He lands on a trans-Atlantic Zeppelin. Upon reaching the other side, he is hailed as a hero as being the first stowaway on a trans-Atlantic Zep.

Krazy Kat receives many offers for his services. While the people are clamoring for his services, another flier is seen and the people run away from Krazy Kat, to welcome the other airman, leaving the feline broken-hearted.

THE END.
